- Conferences in Washington DC
- Conferences provide a good forum to attract journalists, members of think tanks and other policymakers to be exposed to the issues PFP is committed to expose. This requires a contribution of $50,000 for an annual Conference .

- Currently confidential discussions are taking place with a Think tank in the USA. This Institute is an influential voice in Washington DC and is well-known for its work on future direction of public policy. The focus of research on Pakistan would be to examine the country's various issues with a view to offering alternatives for reform and change.

- Nick Griffin Interview
- The team was directly responsible in influencing Nick Griffin head of British National Party and Member of European Parliament, to speak on the threat of terrorism that Saudi-sponsored Wahhabi and Deobandi terrorists pose not only to Christians, Jews, Hindus and other non-Muslim communities but also to moderate Shia and Sunni Muslims.

- Letter signed by a bi-partisan group of members of United States Congress
- We worked with the lobby group in providing data for the Publishing this very significant letter signed by a bi-partisan group of members of United States Congress addressed to the newly elected Prime Minister of Pakistan. The letter condemns Shia Genocide in Pakistan by Takfir Deobandi MILITANTS (operating as Ahle Sunnat Wal Jamaat ASWJ-Deobandi and Lashkar-e-Jhangvi). The letter quotes human rights groups documenting incidents of anti-Shia violence in Pakistan.

- United States Commission on International Religious Freedom on Shia Genocide and persecution of Minorities
We worked with The United States Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) on Shia Genocide and persecution of minorities in Pakistan based on their religious identity.
